

What did I do at City Market?

The Locker “Room”

Technically, it's a hallway, not a room. Either way, this is where every day at work starts. I rode my bike to work every day, so my lunch and helmet would be stored in my locker for later.

The Break Room

The room where all associates go when they are on a mandatory break, contains coffee and 50 cent soda machines.

Time Clock

All associates need to clock into their shift when they start work or come back from lunch, and clock out when they leave work or go to lunch.

Reclamation/Trash

Any products too damaged to sell are sent to Reclamation, where they are disposed of properly, this area also houses the incinerator, where we send all the trash from the store; and the bailer, this compacts cardboard into bales.

Cheese and Sushi

I don't really work in this department, but occasionally I'll shopback something to one of these two. Usually one or both of them will have samples.

Produce

The department that I shopback to the most. In this department you can find all our fresh fruits and vegetables. Mostly the latter. There's usually an associate there so if you can't find something they can always help you out.

Bakery

I mostly just shopback to this department. And since it's not perishable, I don't go here too often

Deli

As with the bakery, I mostly just shopback to this department. However, it is one of my favorite places to get meals for lunch. And they do carry perishables, so I shop back to them more often than the bakery.

Floral

There haven't ever really been any shopbacks to the floral department, but they're still nice to talk to and see every day.

Meat and Seafood

The department that deals with raw meat and seafood. I shop back to the M&S department often because it's perishable and expensive.

Pharmacy

My only interaction I have ever had with the pharmacy was asking if I was allowed to take a picture of it.

Vitamins and Body Care

This department is right behind checklanes 14-18, it contains all our vitamins and other personal care items not found in aisle 9, we don't really shopback here due to us just being able to put stuff back with a few steps.

ShopBack Baskets

When a customer doesn't want something, we put it in shopback, where an associate will take the items to be put back on the shelf, any perishables will be brought back immediately.

Checkout

Where customers checkout their items and pay for them. Self checkout is also an option, but I don't work in self checkout.

The Back Room

Where any products are stored until they get put on the shelf, also houses the Loading Dock, where the trucks drop all our product off. I don't work in this department.

The Lobby

Where we leave the carts while on lot duty, the very first room you will see when coming into the store.

Lot Duty

It is our job to collect carts from out in the lot and bring them back to the lobby. This is usually where I find myself if I am not bagging.
